Gastroscopy and treatment of oesophageal varices (G6) aftercare advice

You have had a procedure called a gastroscopy and treatment of oesophageal varices today: _____.

This factsheet explains what to expect after your procedure. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us using the details at the end of this factsheet.

Before you leave the endoscopy unit

Before you leave the endoscopy unit, we will give you:

- a copy of your consent form
- an advice sheet on what you should and should not do after your procedure
- follow-up advice
- a prescription (if needed)

We will also explain what we have done today and what we have found.

Sedation

As you have had a sedative injection as part of your procedure, your physical and mental capabilities may be temporarily affected. For your own safety and the safety of others, you should follow the advice below:

- Do not eat or drink anything until _____.
Before you eat anything, it is important that you first check your ability to swallow is back to normal. You can do this by sipping some cold water.
  - If you can feel yourself swallowing, you can eat and drink normally.
  - If swallowing does not feel normal yet, wait a further 15 to 30 minutes and try again. Repeat until swallowing feels normal.
- When swallowing feels normal again, you may resume taking your usual medications (unless you have been told otherwise).

Patient information factsheet

- Do not drive any type of motor vehicle or ride any type of bicycle for at least 24 hours after your procedure.
- Do not operate any type of electrical or mechanical equipment/machinery for at least 24 hours after your procedure.
- Do not sign any legally binding documents for at least 24 hours after your procedure.
- Do not drink any alcohol for at least 24 hours after your procedure.
- Rest quietly for the remainder of the day.
- You must have a responsible adult stay with you overnight.
- You should not be responsible for young children, disabled or dependent relatives for at least 24 hours after your procedure.

Side effects

After the procedure, it is normal to experience the following side effects:

- windy, cramp-like pain
- a sore throat
- mild chest discomfort

These side effects should settle within 24 to 48 hours.

If your doctor has performed banding treatment (when the varices are compressed using light rubber bands), you may experience a feeling of something stuck at the bottom of your gullet when you eat or drink. This is normal and should disappear when the bands fall off after about two to three days.

If the pain does not settle or you are at all concerned about your recovery, please contact your general practitioner (GP) or our endoscopy unit using the details at the end of this factsheet.

When to seek urgent medical help

Call NHS 111 immediately or seek emergency care if you:

- experience any severe bleeding
- vomit any blood
- have pain in your chest

Please remember to take this factsheet with you.

Follow-up care

If you need any follow-up appointments at the hospital, we will send you a letter by post.

If you need to see a GP in the two weeks after your procedure, it is important that you take this factsheet with you.
